

Places to visit in the île d'Oléron

SAINT-TROJAN-LES-BAINS

This long town stretches out at the entrance to the island and has all the charm of a late 19th century seaside resort with the elaborate facades of its villas, its forests of maritime pine and a splurge of mimosa in February. One beach follows another all the way from Saint-Trojan to Vert-Bois: first the Grande Plage with water sports, then the Giraudière, the Allasins and the beach at Vert-Bois.

The P'tit Train at Saint-Trojan will take you on a 12 km round trip to the wild furthestmost reaches of the Pertuis de Maumusson, with its magnificent landscapes of fine sand and pine forest that are inaccessible by road. In summer, in July and August, the P'tit train also does «sunset trains».
